

LV HS gets “Master” Class from Dance Champions

The Dance Pros, Sam & Denise Miller, are bringing their Master Class to the Desert Pines High School (Las Vegas) on Wednesday, December 7th.

Two groups of 40-plus students in Ms. Teddie Barnes' dance program will participate in separate sessions of the Master Class at 8 am & 9 am in the Desert Pines High School dance studio.

World Champion dancers Sam & Denise Miller (Portsmouth VA) will be

- performing a showcase exhibition
 - teaching the Master Class and
 - participating in a Q&A session with the students.
- The Miller's exhibition will include a blend of ballroom, country & Latin dance genres.
- The Miller Master Class will feature a couple's dance mixer, with leaders and followers changing partners around the dance floor, ultimately returning to their original partner by the end of the music.
- The Q&A will be a two-way exchange between Sam & Denise Miller and the students. The Miller's have questions for the students, too.

Sam & Denise Miller are advocates of K-12 dance instruction – a daily class in every American school – as a foundation for

- life-time fitness — a cure for obesity & diabetes ??
- each gender learning to understand the other, developing interpersonal skills that can help them in adult relationships — reducing the U.S. divorce rate ??

Bill Clinton is a “Johnny-come-lately” – compared to Sam & Denise – with his program to reverse childhood obesity. The Miller's have been out on the campaign trail [for K-12 fitness via dance instruction] for more than a year! “Welcome aboard, Mr. President!”

The Miller's mantra – “Dancing is easy ... when you know how! Our passion is helping everyone get that know-how!”
